ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Automotive Science and Technology is a two-year program that meets for over two hours per day, five days per week. The rigorous curriculum is designed to prepare students for college and career opportunities. Common Core and National Science standards are an integral part of the automotive curriculum; subsequently, students study scientific principles as they're applied to the design operation, and service of a modern automobile.

Students will learn how engines work, troubleshoot common engine problems and fuel system issues, and analyze and complete vehicle manufacture repair algorithms. Students disassemble a modern vehicle engine, use micrometers and dial indicators to measure engine components, build and test electrical circuits, complete basic vehicle maintenance procedures, and operate machinery associated with lifting a car, changing/balancing tires and performing wheel alignments.
